MICHAEL TODD: The Pace of Grace

The following are notes from Pastor Michael Todd's talk at #GLS20. Use them to help you apply the content you learned at the Summit.

Striding

- Stride means to walk with long decisive steps in a specific direction.
- Why are we walking if we can run?
- Why don't we get there faster?
- The pace of walking lasts longer.
- When you find the right pace, everything changes.
- The pace of grace.

ASK YOURSELF:

- Is everything in your leadership moving at the same pace?
- Do you have leadership unity?
- Is your integrity, your health, your spirituality, your family, your character, your peace, your joy, and your fulfillment, are they working together in harmony, making a beautiful sound?

CONNECTION | Drumming:

- Different parts going at once in union—synergy.
- When you find the right pace, it's easy for a team to follow you

What have you been called to do?

- What is that thing that wakes you up in the morning?
- What is that thing that you are burdened with?
- Stay on that thing with the level of pace that will be able to allow you to sustain.
- We need leaders who will be here generation after generation changing the trajectory of the lives that have come before and lives that are coming after.
- Slowing down the pace allows for mental and emotional availability.
- Have margin in your life.
- Find the pace that is sustainable and livable.
- Poor pace produces missed moments, missed meaning and missed miracles

If you do not find a pace, you will miss the moments that are supposed to bring joy.

- You will miss the things you're supposed to learn, the meaning that is supposed to be in it.
- You'll miss the miracles.

How do I set a new leadership pace?

1. Get A Vision

- Get a vision of yourself rested and whole.
- Vision is what you see when your eyes are closed.
- Sight is what you see when your eyes are open.

2. Make It Visual

- Write it down—nothing's real until you write it down.
- Write down the goal that, "This time next month, my pace is going to go to this. And this time, the month after that, by this time next year."
- Write it down, put it in your iPhone, put it on a tablet.
- Once it becomes real, it's written down.

3. Be Verbal

- Tell somebody, "I'm changing my pace."
- Once you do that, don't violate what you said.
- The results are going to come.
- Pace directly affects peace, and peace is true prosperity.
- If you want true prosperity in your business and your life, you need peace.
- If you need peace over a long period of time, you have to have a pace.
- Success is not just where you end up, it's how you get there.
